

URBIDERMIS SANTA&COLE STUDY TOUR KNOWLEDGE PARK, BARCELONA

The All Urban study tour to Barcelona has been designed to educate UK designers about Urbidermis Santa & Cole's unique design and products.

Urbidermis Santa & Cole's vocation in design started in 1985, and has since grown into a brand of small, independent and global editors of well-designed products.

The study tour is a unique opportunity to learn about their strong ethos and design philosophies, offering you the chance to immerse yourself in their culture and gain first-hand insight into how they lead on quality and achieve their premium edge.

The tour has been specifically designed for UK landscape architects, architects, design professionals and lighting designers who are interested in specifying Urbidermis Santa & Cole's outdoor products within their projects.

Taking place annually, professionals are invited to fly out to Belloch in Barcelona Spain, home to both Urbidermis Santa & Cole's headquarters and their project site's which have been installed around the city of Barcelona.

"We took a lot away with us from the study tour and enjoyed sharing our stories with the team. We felt very inspired by the tour and have since worked with All Urban to specify and install their Harpo benches for one of our projects."
